Lazarus, J. E. Keeping the Bed Dry[®] is a comprehensive home video program that incorporates medical hypnosis to help children and adolescents keep the bed dry at night. Available for purchase at www.keepingthebeddry.com (2013).

CURRENT MEDICAL RESEARCH PROJECTS:

1. Division of Pediatric Urology, Oregon Health and Sciences University, Portland, Oregon.

The division is using my program, "Keeping the Bed Dry[®]," in a medical study for patients with nocturnal enuresis (bedwetting.)

The objective is to determine if a self-guided comprehensive home video program that incorporates Self-Hypnosis (SH), behavioral strategies, and techniques to build positive expectations, can help patients with Primary Monosymptomatic Nocturnal Enuresis (PMNE) when used as initial therapy.

2. Division of Pediatric Gastroenterology, Rainbow Babies and Children's Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio.

The division is using my program, "Controlling Your Gut Feelings®," in a medical study for patients with irritable bowel syndrome (IBS) and functional abdominal pain (FAP).

The objective is to determine if a self-guided comprehensive home video program that incorporates Self-Hypnosis (SH), cognitive behavioral strategies, and techniques to build positive expectations, can help patients with IBS and FAP.
